OVERVIEW

Have you ever been confronted with the need to prepare an accounting for an estate, trust or guardianship? If so, and you thought you walked into a mine field, then this three part luncheon program is for you. With the increase in guardianships for senior citizens and the explosion of special needs trusts for the disabled, the ability to prepare an accounting or to oppose the approval of an accounting are skills with which the practitioner must be familiar.

This workshop consists of three, one-hour sessions at Bar Headquarters that will walk you through the process of preparing, filing, having audited and opposing a formal accounting. Participants will interact closely with the presenters, all tops in their fields, and walk away with the skills necessary to handle an accounting in the future.
